Workshop on CoVEs

On the 28th and 29th of November, a transformative workshop “CATALYST CoVEs and impact on socioeconomic development” unfolded, providing participants with a unique opportunity to delve into the realm of thriving. Moderated by the distinguished Dr Wayne Visser, the workshop showcased a vision where innovation becomes the driving force behind the regeneration of nature, society, and the economy.

Grateful for the exceptional opportunity and honour to host Prof. Dr Wayne Visser in our recent workshop! Over two enlightening days, we delved into the transformative power of thriving, navigating the complexities of a sustainable future. We learned, exchanged profound ideas, and left inspired to make a positive impact. From understanding intricate patterns to fostering collaboration, the workshop illuminated pathways from depletion to regeneration. It was a shared journey, an exploration of ideas, and a collective inspiration that resonates in our commitment to a better tomorrow. Let's continue innovating, collaborating, and embracing purpose for a world that thrives!
